The Robbins' Family

A statement prepared by Prof. C. F. Gobble, Animal Husbandry Department, Purdue University, and read to the Purdue stock judging class on a recent visit to Robinwood Farm.

On August 6, 1797, William Robbins was born in the Blue Ridge Mountains, Franklin County, Virginia. He came to Indiana in 1821, entered and located on a farm just one mile east of Horace.

James Gilman Robbins, son of William, was born on this farm June 10, 1829. J. G. Robbins had two sons, John and Will, who with their father started in the pure bred Shorthorn business about 1876.

J. G. Robbins and sons were the leading Shorthorn breeders and exhibitors during a period beginning about 1890. Gay Monarch, whose grave and stone will be found near the barn, along with four cows, won the grand $1,000 cash prize offered at the World's Fair in 1893.

First importations of cattle from Scotland to this herd were four females, Clara 55th, Goldie 44th, Emma 32nd, and Blithsome 18th. These cattle were purchased from W. S. Marr. Later the bull, Choice Goods, was bought from an importation of W. D. Flatt of Ontario, Canada, with several females imported at the same time.

Other bulls bred on the Robbins' farm used successfully in their herd were St. Valentine, and The Lad for Me. The Robbins' herd was shown at Madison Square Gardens in New York City and won every first prize offered.

In 1900, The Lad for Me, sired by St. Valentine, was the Grand Champion bull at the International. The same year, (also 1901) Ruberta, also sired by St. Valentine, was the Grand Champion female of the show. In 1902, Choice Goods, a bull used by this firm, was Grand Champion of the International. In 1905, Lad's Emma, sired by The Lad for Me, was the Grand Champion female at the International.

Since Will Robbins' death, Earl Robbins, his son, has carried on the Shorthorn breeding on the Robbins' farm.

In 1934, Raveni Masterpiece, bred by T. Dorsey Jones and shown by Earl Robbins, was the Grand Champion bull at the International.

In 1935, Robinwood Sultana, sired by Raveni Masterpiece, was the Grand Champion at the International. She was bred, fitted, and shown by Earl Robbins.

Beginning in 1900, there have been held 33 International Live Stock Expositions and at these 33 shows, 29 different Shorthorn bulls have won Grand Championship honors. Of these, two have been shown by the Robbins' family, The Lad for Me in 1900, Raveni Masterpiece in 1934. In the 33 years, but two of these Grand Champion bulls have later sired a first prize get of sire group at the International, namely, The Lad for Me and Raveni Masterpiece. In the 33 years, but one Grand Champion bull has produced a son who has won Grand Championship at this show, namely, Choice Goods.

In the 33 years, but two Grand Champion bulls have produced daughters who have been Grand Champion females at this show, namely, The Lad for Me and Raveni Masterpiece.

There seems to be something in the make-up of the Robbins' family that makes it possible for them to select, breed, fit, show, and sell Shorthorn cattle successfully in competition with all the breeders of this as well as of foreign countries. Mr. Earl Robbins, whose farm you visit today, outstandingly exemplifies all of these characteristics that, taken together, make an outstanding live stock man.

FROM THE SALE MANAGER

I am pleased to be charged with the management of such a sale as this because I feel confident that future great Shorthorn herds will owe their success to herd bulls and foundation females purchased from this offering.

—HAL LONGLEY of The Shorthorn World.

She stood second in a very strong class at the last International and she will be one of the very best junior yearlings out this coming season. This family has produced as many show animals for us in the last few years as any family at Robinwood. She is sired by Raveni Masterpiece and her dam, a red cow, was one of our best show heifers as a yearling and two year old. She will please you. We would like to have the privilege of showing her if the buyer is willing.

RAVENI LEOPOLD

Browndale Pilot—The Improver

BROWNDALÉ PILOT, bred by that master cattleman James Douglas of Caledonia, Ontario, had that certain something that was needed for the advancement of Shorthorn standards in this country. It was through the vision of T. Dorsey Jones that this blood was made easily available to breeders of this country. Browndale Pilot, through matings with the wonderful females in the Raveni Herd, has moulded each calf to perfection and passed on to his progeny character and quality equalled by but few sires in the history of the breed. It is indeed fortunate that the owner of Browndale Pilot and the owner of his International grand champion son, Raveni Masterpiece, are so located as to make this annual sale possible.

Browndale Commander 1812072—A lot of great sires have been produced in the Raveni Herd but we believe Browndale Commander gives promise of being the best. On another page we have presented pictures of both the front and rear views of this bull and we are sure you will agree that he analyzes well from either view. Due to the wonderfully strong concentration of Avondale blood in his pedigree, we made plans at the time he was dropped to retain this particular son of Browndale Pilot for herd use. A number of the females in this sale will carry his service.
